ORDER

An order of the Medical Examining Board to create Med 10.02 (2) (zd), relating to defining sexual contact with a patient as unprofessional conduct.

ANALYSIS

Statutes authorizing promulgation: ss. 15.08 (5) (b), 227.11 (2) and 448.40 (1), Wis. Stats.

Statutes interpreted: s. 448.015 (4), Wis. Stats.

The Medical Examining Board has for many years prosecuted cases involving inappropriate sexual contact between physicians and their patients under s. Med 10.02 (2) (h), Wis. Admin. Code. That section reads as follows:

Med 10.02 Definitions. . . . (2) The term “unprofessional conduct” is defined to mean and include but not be limited to the following, or aiding or abetting the same:

(h) Any practice or conduct which tends to constitute a danger to the health, welfare, or safety of patient or public.

In a recent circuit court case, the board’s finding of a violation of the cited section, arising from a respondent having engaged in a sexual relationship with a patient over a period of approximately eight months, was appealed based in part on the argument that the cited section was vague in terms of what it permitted and prohibited. The court agreed, reversing the board’s decision and remanding the case to the board “for either further evidentiary proceedings or for particularly specific findings as to how the danger to patient rule was violated or caused, rather, in this case by improper medical treatment.”

Based upon this challenge to the board’s interpretation of the so-called “danger rule,” it is deemed appropriate to join most of the other health care boards in specifically prohibiting inappropriate sexual contact or behavior with a patient. Also consistent with similar rules promulgated by other affected boards, the patient’s status as a patient is extended for two years beyond actual termination of services in order to obviate the possible problem of a licensee summarily suspended terminating treatment immediately upon commencement of improper personal contact with a patient.
